A CREATIVE PATH

AUCKLAND ART GALLERY TOI OTĀMAKI

Kōeke 1 – Level 1

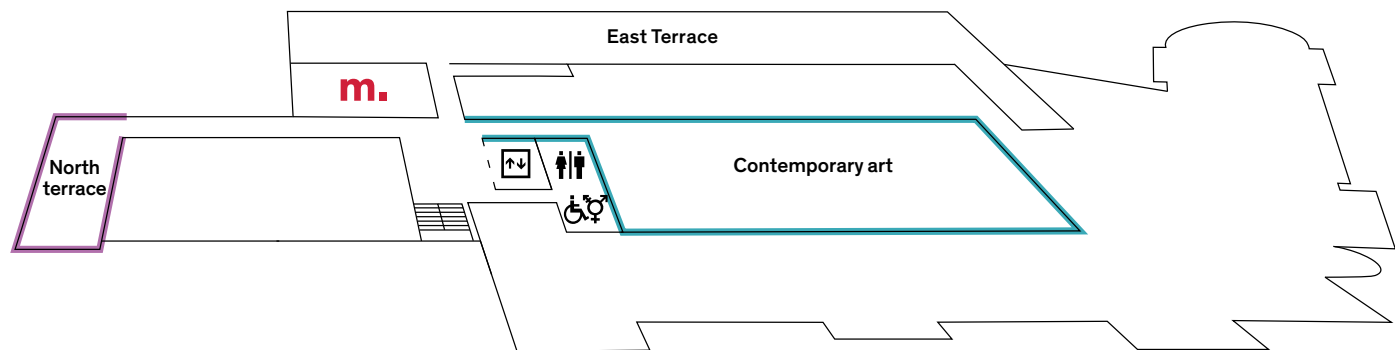

● Frida Kahlo and Diego Rivera

Come face to face with a cultural icon. Through Frida Kahlo's paintings, the work of her husband, Diego Rivera, and leading artists in their circle, discover an extraordinary story of art, love and life.

● Robin White

Explore the visually rich artwork of Robin White, one of New Zealand's most established artists, through autobiographical images of whānau, friends, landscape and home.

Kōeke 2 – Level 2

● Sculpture terrace

Step outside for a close-up view of art and see things from a different perspective.

● Contemporary art

Examine artistic responses to domestic architecture from the 1970s to today and find out how artists work with the materials and psychology of 'home'.

While here

Make the most of your visit

There are many ways to extend your experience. Ask our Gallery Assistants/Kaiārahi for details or check aucklandartgallery.com.

Shop

Visit our shop to take home a treat for the tamariki, support one of our exhibiting artists by purchasing their products or pick up a tote bag for yourself.

Café

Put some kai in your puku! Our café is the place for a coffee or kaputi. Visit us on Level 1 and feed a hungry whānau with food and drink to suit all tastes.

Membership

Love what we do? Show your aroha by joining us as a Member – you'll be supporting us in our work to connect art with people. Enjoy access to art and artists at Member-only events, save in our café and shop, and take heart from supporting our creative communities

Haere mai – Welcome

There are many ways to explore the Gallery – from following your own nose to following this map.

Fold out these pages to get started or, for a little extra help, chat to one of our friendly Gallery Assistants/Kaiārahi.

Papatū – Ground

Forecourt pool

Discover Māori legend and shimmering beauty in artist Reuben Paterson's crystal waka that casts a glittering galaxy of stars across our forecourt pool.

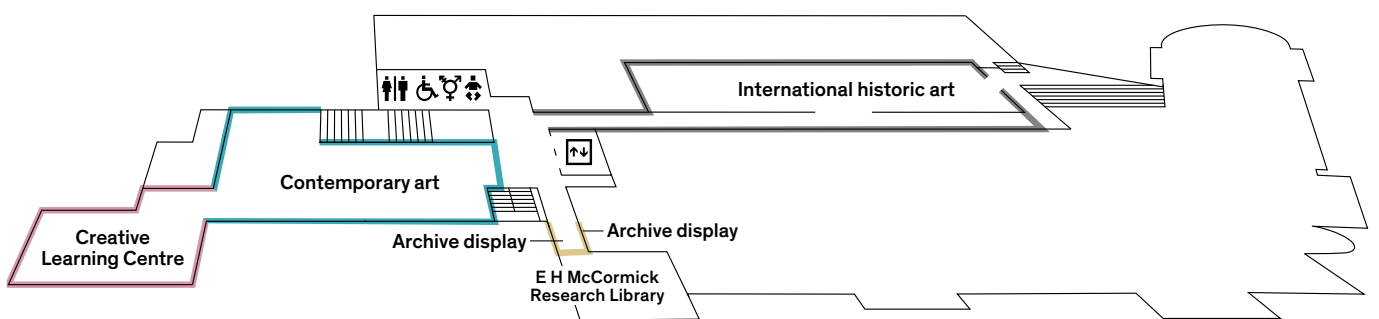

New Zealand and international art

A love letter to the city's public art collection, take a deep dive through this exhibition that blends historical with contemporary. From portraits to pop art, it includes the remarkable portraits of Māori rangatira painted in oils by 19th-century artists, Goldie and Lindauer.

New Zealand contemporary art

Head to our South Atrium to see the latest in a series of commissioned projects by local artists.

Huarewa – Mezzanine

Creative Learning Centre

Art is all about expressing yourself. Bring the tamariki and try your hand at new materials and ideas, as you journey through your imagination.

Contemporary art

Encounter regularly changing mahi toi, performances and site-specific responses in the vast expanse of our North Atrium.

Archive display

Sketches, notebooks, photos and personal letters – all can be found in this display from our archives.

International historic art

Look anew at the sensual images acquired by Victorian-era collectors and consider the changing attitudes to gender and sexuality today.
