KIA ORA

We're thrilled to share the second edition of We The Young – a festival in the heart of Tāmaki Makaurau celebrating children's natural playfulness and imagination, while nurturing their curiosity, creativity, wisdom and sense of adventure.

With more than 25 incredible shows, events and experiences on offer – and over half of them completely free – there's something for every child and family.

Journey through the cosmos in a world of light and sound, watch puppets come to life and robots appear before your eyes. Vote for what you believe in, disguise yourself, or jump into a dance battle. Whether you're a toddler or a tween, there are endless opportunities to explore, dream, wonder and sing your heart out.

In addition to what you will discover in this stunning festival programme guide, we look forward to revealing a number of surprises across the city as We The Young fever takes over! We also welcome new partnerships with New Zealand Maritime Museum and Auckland City Central Library.

I'm extremely proud of this world-class programme led by Creative Producer, Lynne Cardy, working closely with Helaina Keeley, Nolwenn Lacire and Jade Bull from Auckland Live's programming and public realm teams.

Building on the foundations of understanding and empathy, We The Young is designed to connect children and their whānau with the joy of playfulness and imagination. Be curious and get amongst it.

WONDERVERSE

Big universe. Small humans. Infinite wonder.

An immersive world powered by music and light. In the Wonderverse, children help shape a universe of light — then step inside it.

Travelling through a tunnel of flickering fireflies to dancing in a glowing forest of light, they discover the vastness of the cosmos one small step at a time.

Experience breathhtaking lighting by Geoff Cobham, discover epic tunes by Elisha Umuhuri from DEM MOB and, best of all, become part of the action.

Adventure awaits in this unforgettable experience.

“If you are looking for a show that will ignite your child’s imagination and leave them wondering about the stars, Wonderverse is a must see.” – Kiddo Mag

Kids Speak Up and Grown-Ups Listen!

What would happen if tamariki had the power to vote? With New Zealand's 2026 election fast approaching, there's no better moment to bring Barbarian Productions' much-loved interactive experience, The Kids' Election, to Tāmaki Makaurau for the first time.

Designed especially for kids, this free pop-up polling booth invites children into a playful, imaginative world where democracy comes to life. Inside this vibrant, interactive space, children can step into the role of decision-makers.

They can cast their votes, create their own protest placards, and dress up as politicians, suffragettes, activists, or anything they want to be.

The Kids' Election sparks curiosity, creativity and conversation about democracy, empowering young people to explore how their voices can shape the world around them.

Stay as long as you need to make your vote!

THE IMAGINARIUM

The Imaginarium returns after a sold-out run last year, now expanded into a special two-day experience.

Step into a magical world where performers guide you through an immersive landscape of art, movement, light, sound and storytelling.

This year's theme, Our Natural World, invites you to forage, adventure, dream, and connect with the beauty and possibilities of the world around us, as you explore interactive sensory environments and hands-on creative experiences.

Create alongside your young people in a space designed to rediscover the joy of being a child. Dance, build, and play with light, shadow and projection in ways that are entirely your own.

Designed by Disabled and non-disabled artists, this welcoming experience puts accessibility at its heart, creating a space where everyone can take part in their own way.

BETSY BALLOON AND THE VERY GREAT TERRIBLE FLOOD

Welcome to the island of Helium where Betsy lives with her balloon-factory-owning family. They're cheerful, a bit money-mad and life is on the up.

But when the tide turns against balloons, their world pops. Betsy must start a new life in a far away city with her eccentric uncle, Hercules Snark, an inventor of mostly half-finished things.

Unfortunately, Snark has problems of his own. In his city, it never stops raining. The streets are flooding. And things, quite literally, are starting to sink.

Betsy Balloon is a rambunctious modern fable with original music and illustration based on a story by Bill Manhire.
